

OPENING THE YEAR

With Entertainments of Varied Programmes, and Receptions.

ENJOYABLE FUNCTION AT Y. M. C. A.

The Rooms Crowded Afternoon and Evening—Two Attractive Programmes Rendered—Concert at Disciples Church, Bellaire—Burlesque and Specialty Entertainment at Turner Hall—Other Events of Interest.

The New Year's reception at the Y. M. C. A. building yesterday was one of the most gratifying and successful in the history of that organization. The rooms were tastefully decorated with evergreen and bunting, and on the walls were hung handsome photographic collections from the galleries of O'Neill and Tappan & Connel. From 3 o'clock in the afternoon until 10 o'clock in the evening the building was thronged with the members and friends of the institution.

As has been the custom heretofore, the Women's Union Benevolent Association had charge of the reception, and dispensed the refreshments, assisted by a number of young ladies, who certainly contributed to the attractiveness of the occasion. The entertainments connected with the function commenced with the hand-ball contest in the gymnasium, which entertained the visitors from 3 to 4 o'clock.

This was followed by a literary and musical programme, printed in yesterday's issue, which was successfully carried out. In the evening the hall was crowded to its utmost capacity, when the audience was delightfully entertained by a literary and musical programme of unusual merit. Col. Robert White extended the New Year's greeting in a felicitous manner, instead of Hon. G. W. Atkinson, whose engagements compelled his absence from the city.

SUCCESSFUL CONCERT

At the Disciples Church, Bellaire, Last Night—The Prominent Soloists.

The New Year's concert in the Disciples church at Bellaire last night packed that church to its utmost capacity and the large audience was delightfully entertained with the splendid programme, which included some of the sweetest music ever heard here, the vocal solos of Miss Laura Sellars Lazure and Miss Lida Anderson especially receiving hearty encores, as did also the duet of Misses Lida and Nellie Anderson of St. Clairsville. Those who rendered the concert were as follows:

Soprano—Mrs. M. L. Blackburn, Mrs. J. Luke, Miss Lida Anderson, Miss Edith Johnson, Miss Inez Blackburn, Miss Myrtle Stewart, Miss Lulu Nelson, Miss Mattie Hart, Miss Stella Wagner, Miss Bertha Snedeker, Miss Amelia Greathouse, Mrs. G. M. Mertz, Miss Laura Dickens, Miss Olive Neitz, Miss Alice Bolen, Miss Mollie Stewart, Miss Mamie Pickett, Miss Ora Hart, Miss Jesse Henthorn, Miss Sarah Brainerd, Miss B. Saltzaver and Miss Lucy Roder.

Alto—Mrs. R. Neitz, Miss Ella Marsh, Miss Lizzie Jennings, Miss Alma Pickett, Miss Nellie Anderson, Miss Maggie Stewart, Miss Edna Blackburn and Miss Lois White.

Tenors—Mr. J. W. Liller, Mr. Harry McGregor, Mr. J. L. Milligan, Mr. Howard Kirk and Mr. J. H. Hopkins.

Basses—Mr. F. B. Archer, Mr. W. L. Hamilton, Mr. G. M. Mertz and Mr. B. W. Hopkins.

TURNER'S ENTERTAINMENT.

A Burlesque and Specialty Programme, Followed by a Dance.

The Turners celebrated the opening of the new year by a grand burlesque and specialty entertainment and dance at their hall on North Market street last evening. The programme was a varied one, the comical features being really comical. Among the most taking numbers were the musical specialties of Neiswanger and Strauss, the balancing chair act of Walter Kober, the double trapeze specialty of Kober and Straub, and the foot ball game. Messrs. Straub and Kober are gymnasts of a high order of talent, some of their acts comparing favorably with professionals.

The audience present was large and appreciative, and the music of the Opera House orchestra up to the usual high standard of that excellent organization. After the stage performances were concluded, the hall was cleared and the remainder of the evening devoted to dancing. Following was the programme of the stage entertainment:

1. Overture
2. Double Horizontal Bar—Kober and Straub
3. Music Specialty—C. Neiswanger and Strauss
4. Perch Act—Kober and Straub
5. Balancing Chairs—Walter Kober
6. Sawdusts—Kober and Straub
7. Double Perch Specialty—Straub and Flag
8. "Three Plankies"
9. Mid Air Boxing Match
10. Double Trapeze—Kober and Straub
11. Acrobatic Specialties
12. Rugby Foot Ball Game—Yale vs. Princeton

Lutheran Church Social.

Last evening the congregation of the English Lutheran church gave a very enjoyable social, which was largely attended. A fine musical and literary programme acceptably rendered added much to the success of the occasion.

Other Events Last Night.

At the Beethoven hall last evening Bavarian society gave a very enjoyable concert and ball.

A Mozart society gave a concert and ball last night, which was largely attended.

The German-American Veterans' hall gave a ball in Menge & Howley's hall last night.

The St. Matthews church, of Pennington, gave an entertainment last night which was a very enjoyable and successful affair.

AS "MAJOR DE BOOTS"

Mr. Wilfred Clarke is a Pronounced Success—Good Support.

Yesterday afternoon and last evening Mr. Wilfred Clarke and his fine company appeared at the Opera House in "A Widow Hunt." The comedy has been especially re-written for the star, and it fits the part of Major Wellington de Boots admirably—or rather it fits him. A better rendition of the comedy was never seen in Wheeling, which is paying Mr. Clarke a high compliment, for both Joseph Jefferson and Mr. Clarke's father, John S. Clarke, have been seen in it here, and they were could be as now nearly perfect as they could be. The support was satisfactory throughout, and the audiences at both performances enjoyed the play thoroughly.

This evening the bill will be "Tit for Tat." This comedy, which made such a favorable impression here last season, has been rewritten and greatly strengthened since then, and was used as the opening production in Philadelphia.

FRIGHTFULLY MUTILATED.

Mrs. Moringo Struck by a Terminal Train and Literally Torn to Pieces.

Mrs. Eliza Moringo was killed by a freight train on the Terminal railroad in Martin's Ferry yesterday. She was walking down the track when struck, and her body was literally cut to pieces. She was a widow, and resided with her son-in-law, Robert Heslop, on the corner of Park and Fifth streets.

Mrs. Moringo, who was rather deaf, left Mr. Heslop's about 1:30 o'clock and started down the Terminal track with a bucket in her hand, walking toward Hanover street. The freight came along at a pretty rapid rate, backing down. The brakeman, John Engle, who was standing on the first car yelled at the woman, at the same time giving the stop signal to the engineer, John Flagstone. Several boys who were near the track also warned Mrs. Moringo as to the approach of the train. She did not hear or see them, it seems, and did not know the train was approaching. An effort was made to stop the train, but it was too late. The front car struck Mrs. Moringo and she was knocked down. This was just above Hanover street.

When the train, which consisted of twenty box and flat cars, was stopped, the engine stood at the depot while the far end of the train was near the Central school, and between the brake and wheel on the West side of the sixth car was wedged in all that remained of the body and clothing.

Portions of the body were scattered for some distance along the track. The face was less cut up than almost any other part of the body, and it was by her face that she was identified. The sight was a sickening one, and was more than many persons could stand. Men, women and children were attracted to the scene, and not a few regretted that they had seen the remains. The engine was the George P. Bissell, and the train was in charge of Conductor Charles Knox. The entire crew was horrified but felt that they were not to blame.

Mrs. Moringo, 55 years old, had been a widow for a long time, resided with her son-in-law and daughter for several years and had five other children, all residing in Wheeling. The verdict at the inquest was that she came to her death by accident. The train crew was exonerated of all blame.

Miner Killed.

A fatal accident, resulting in the death of Michael Brokaw, a miner at the Wheeling Creek coal mines, east of Bridgeport, occurred yesterday afternoon. He was sitting on the front end of one of the loaded cars coming out of the mine and when the entrance was reached he was jarred off in some manner, and falling beneath the wheels was almost instantly crushed to death. Yesterday was the first day Brokaw had worked for some time. The body was taken to his home and will be buried to-day.

BUCKEYE GLASS WORKS.

The Management Makes a Proposition Akin to Fair Arbitration.

The fires have not yet been lighted in the Buckeye glass works, at Martin's Ferry, and the time of the resumption depends partially on circumstances. Everything is being gotten in readiness to start.

To an INTELLIGENCER reporter A. B. Seamon, the general manager, said: "The people of Martin's Ferry do not seem to understand the situation. To pay union wages on the line we make we would lose money and could not compete with the different non-union factories making the same class of goods that we do. In order to place the whole matter before the public through a fair and impartial source we are willing to submit this matter to a committee of competent business men, one to be selected by local union No. 15, one by the Buckeye Glass Company, and the third to be selected by the two. After the parties are named let them meet with a committee from the glass-blowers and the management of the works, get the facts from both sides and if the committee decides that the Buckeye can operate at a profit in the line of goods we make at the present union wages and union environments, then we are willing to give up the effort to start the plant with non-union men. This would be fair to all concerned, as statements from either party in the struggle are looked upon as being prejudiced. I hope such a committee will be appointed in a day or two."

Just what action the glassworkers will take is not known.

PANIC IN MEXICO.

Seismic Disturbances Create a Season of Terror in the Capital City.

CITY OF MEXICO, Jan. 1.—The earthquake caused great alarm here from those who feared a repetition of the disastrous earthquakes of November 2, which killed 18 people and did great property damage.

In the Arben theatre, which is the only play house now open in this capital, as the result of the damages sustained by the other theatres by the previous shocks, a stampede occurred. Women leaped from the lower boxes and the audience struggled for escape at the narrow exits. The manager appeared on the stage and tried to calm the fear-crazed people and at last a degree of quiet was restored, but not until the most of the audience had taken refuge in the streets, which were full of frightened people, many of them in their night clothes. The scene of November 2 was repeated in a large part, and thousands of penitents knelt in the open streets and prayed and cried in a loud voice for deliverance from death.

In Belem prison, where thousands of wretched beings are huddled together in the prison barracks, pandemonium reigned, and the guards had hard work to prevent hundreds from breaking out of their quarters and flinging themselves over the walls. The large supply pipes leading to the city burst, flooding the streets.

The disturbance was foretold two months ago by Juan N. Contreras, of Guanajuato, the locally famous seismic prognosticator, who prophesied that between the 30th of December and the 2d of January this volcano zone would be visited by another earthquake disturbance. Contreras is making his prophecies for three events in this line, and says the disturbances will continue in greater or less degree at periods during 1895.

New Bishops.

Rome, Jan. 1.—The pope has appointed Bishop M. Marty, of Sioux Falls, S. D., to the bishopric of St. Cloud, Minn., and the Rev. Father Languevin, of the Congregation of St. Mary Immaculate, has been appointed to the bishopric of St. Boniface, Canada.

NORWOOD INSTITUTE.

A Well Known School for Young Ladies and Girls—Mr. Cabell of the School is Here.

The fine brown stone mansion, built for his own use by ex-Senator T. W. Palmer, of Michigan, in Washington, has been altered, enlarged, and adapted to the use of Norwood institute, and is admirably fitted with all modern improvements steam heat, elevator, several bathrooms on each floor, and a perfect system of sanitation.

The location, between Vermont avenue and Fifteenth street, is one of the most convenient and choice in Washington, in close proximity to the Arlington, the Shoreham, the Normandie, the Cochran and other leading hotels. The outlook from the different stories of the massive constructed house is very beautiful, extending over McPherson square, Lafayette park, the white house grounds and all the finest portions of the city.

While so central in situation, the residence is very retired and almost surrounded by open space. A street is one of the favorite drives of the city; no car track passes the house, but the Fourteenth street and Connecticut avenue lines and the Fifteenth street herdie line are alike very convenient.

The boarding department is limited to thirty pupils with nine resident teachers and governesses, including native instructors in French and German. The facilities in the home life for acquiring a fluent use in these languages are altogether exceptional. The staff of teachers and professors is very large, able and experienced. Pupils are prepared for any of the colleges for women. The school certificate admits to Wellesley.

The Norwood diploma is of a very high grade. The late Mr. Justice Miller, of the United States supreme court, for years a patron of the school, said: "I know of no school for young ladies whose diploma commands a higher respect than Norwood Institute."

Many special courses are provided for advanced pupils. Preparation is given to young girls for foreign travel and for the art and music schools of France and Germany. Attention is particularly invited to the departments of Music, Education, English Literature and Modern Languages.

Mr. William D. Cabell, of this school, is now at the McClure House, and will remain to see persons desiring to enter their daughters, and will make special rates and accompany pupils to the school. He refers to Mrs. M. Stevens Hart, also to the following patrons:

Mr. Justice Field, U. S. supreme court; Mr. Justice Shiras, U. S. supreme court; Mr. Justice Harlan, U. S. supreme court; Mr. Justice Brewer, U. S. supreme court; the chief justice, U. S. supreme court; Hon. John W. Daniel, U. S. senate; Hon. Hilary A. Herbert, secretary of the navy; Hon. Newton C. Blanchard, U. S. senate; Hon. J. K. Toole, governor of Montana; Hon. Thomas F. Bayard; Vice President A. E. Stevenson; Mr. Gibson Lamb, president Bank of Wheeling, and others.

ACQUITTED BY A JURY.

But a Kentucky Mob Lynched Him All the Same.

Mr. STERLING, KY., Jan. 1.—About 2 o'clock this morning a mob of twenty-five men went to the county jail, overpowered Jailer Best, secured the keys and took from the jail Tom Blair, of Morgan county, and hung him to a railroad trestle in the city limits. Blair fought desperately for his life, and was beaten into almost insensibility before he was hung. Blair was one of the parties who assisted in killing Capt. J. L. Bomar in this city last February. He was cleared of the charge, and was in jail for shooting with intent to kill a few days ago.

Blessed by Hood's

The Manager of a Lumber Co., Tells His Story.

"A year ago last spring I was taken with sore throat and could not swallow or sleep. Later my head and face broke out with little pimples. I felt dull and had no ambition to do anything. I did not care to eat, and what little I did eat did me no good. I am six feet, one inch tall and only weighed 137 pounds. The first bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla made such a change in me, I was surprised at myself. I have a number of men working here and I put them to the test, and now I do not go to town but what some one wants me to bring back a supply of Hood's Sarsaparilla. Well, now as to myself, I am on the fourth bottle. Today I can get out and do any kind of work and feel good. I weigh 175 pounds and am gaining flesh every day. What I eat enjoys the best of health, better than I have been for years. I recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla to all for it was a blessing to me." EMORY R. CHICHESTER, Manager of Tusculum Lumber Co., Hull, Ala.
